Aging-In-Place Expert Announces Next Educational Event

KANSAS CITY, MO (June 17, 2010) LifeWise Renovations has officially opened its doors, intent on helping Kansas City age in place. According to the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), over 90% of seniors want to remain in their homes as they age. View AARP Fact Sheet.

On June 8, the company held its first “Imagine the Possibilities” open house, an invitation-only educational session for local health care professionals. Attendees were given a tour of the LifeWise Gallery, which features innovative, attractive home modifications that make it possible for people to live safely and comfortably at home regardless of age or physical ability.

According to Mike Dodd, owner and Certified Aging-In-Place Specialist \(CAPS\), the event was a rousing success. “We established LifeWise Renovations to help Kansas City’s nearly 500,000* seniors maintain their independence as their physical abilities change over time,” Dodd said. “This event allowed us to demonstrate our capabilities and show our friends and colleagues the commitment we’ve made to becoming the area’s go-to CAPS remodeler.”

The next open house will be held Wednesday, June 23, 2010, from 6 to 7:10 p.m. at the company’s headquarters — 3500 W. 75th Street, Suite 100, Prairie Village, KS 66208.

The media is invited to learn more about the growing need for barrier-free living environments and why so many baby boomers are choosing to age-in-place. Occupational therapists and other health care professionals will be available to help attendees see a home through the eyes of a caregiver.
